The 120-mile Florida Keys island chain is home to the continental United States' only living-coral barrier reef. This teeming backbone of marine life runs the length of the Keys about 5 miles offshore and offers Florida Keys scuba diving vacation memories that last a lifetime.

Their coral formations are famous for their abundance of fish, from impressive schools of blue-striped grunts to toothy green moray eels. There is no more versatile marine destination in the World.

They have coral encrusted ship wrecks and intricate natural coral formations. shallow reefs for snorkelers, and a range of deeper reefs for experienced divers.

Once you visit the Keys, you'll see why some of the most renowned dive photographers and writers in the world make this their home base.

GCD ECO/ OCEAN FRIENDLY TRAVEL TIPS

As divers, we share a deep respect for our ocean planet and the diversity of life it supports. We also know what's at stake if we don't protect our environment. Divers can make a difference. Each time we travel, dive and immerse ourselves in new destinations, here's what we can do to help:

- Leave Only Bubbles: Minimize waste and pack your trash for home.
- Take Only Pictures: Leave shells, coral and other natural treasures in place.
- Be Buoyant: Avoid touching reefs and other natural areas with your body, dive gear, cameras and other underwater equipment.
- Lighten Your Lodging Footprint: Turn off lights, reduce air conditioning, reuse towels and conserve water.
- Choose Sensible Seafood: If seafood is on the menu, make sustainable choices.
- Buyer Beware: Learn the facts before buying souvenirs made from wildlife. (Note: All sea turtle products are illegal)
- Support Marine Protected Areas: Contribute via park fees, donations and volunteerism.
- Set an Example: Cleanup trash, never intentionally touch, feed or handle marine life, and set examples like these for others to follow.
